Memel, May 17. N. S.

THE Poſt from the Saxon Camp before Riga is not come in this day as uſual, which makes People apt to believe, that ſomething extraordinary has happened there.

Mittaw, May 17. We have no freſh Advices from the Saxon Camp before Riga, but juſt before the departure of theſe Letters here is a Report, that the Swediſh Succours from Finland have attacked the Saxons, forced their Camp, and obliged them to repaſs the Dwina in great diſorder; of which we muſt expect a more certain Account.

Wilda in Lithuania, May 9. Divers of the Principal Gentlemen of Lithuania have had a Meeting here, to reconcile the Families of Sapieha and Oginsky, and had great hopes of adjuſting Matters between them; But the Tribunal of the Treaſury of Lithuania being to meet to morrow, and it being intended to call the Caſtellan Witepsky, and ſome other Perſons who are of Oginsky's Party, to an Account for ſeveral Sums of Publick Money in their hands; The Sieur Oginsky propoſed, That ſeeing this Enquiry might occaſion freſh Diſputes, and the Diviſions they were about putting an end to might thereby be revived, it would be convenient to put off, at leaſt for the preſent, the Examination of theſe Accounts, and the Tribunal might in the mean time make ſome Regulations for the better Management of the Publick Revenues for the future. This was ſtrongly oppoſed by Prince Sapieha, and thoſe of his Party, and the Debates growing warm, the Sieur Oginsky and the Caſtellan Witepsky left the Aſſembly in great diſcontent, and are returned home.

Birza in Samogitia, May 15. A Detachment of the Forces of Lithuania, conſiſting in one Regiment of Horſe, one of Dragoons, and two of Foot, and two Troops of Coſſacks and Tartars under the Command of Major-General Potocky, are come into the Neighbourhood of this Place, in order to join the Saxons before Riga; But they are not to proceed farther, before they have Orders from the Great General of Lithuania, who 'tis thought will not give them, unleſs the Senate, which is ſhortly to meet at Warſaw, agree to engage in the War againſt Sweden.

Warſaw, May 15. The King of Poland has been ſomewhat indiſpoſed, but is now very well again. General Fleming is not yet returned to the Camp before Riga. Prince Sapieha, Great General of the Dutchy of Lithuania, is expected here from thence this evening or to morrow, in order to be preſent at the Meeting of the Senate, which is to be opened on the 18th Inſtant. We are in great expectation, what Reſolutions will be taken in this Aſſembly. The Senators do generally appear againſt the War with Sweden, ſo that ſome think 'twill ſcarce be mentioned in the Senate; However, the Court continues with no leſs Application to give the Neceſſary Orders for carrying it on.

Stockholme, May 18. The King of Sweden is gone from Carelſcroone to Chriſtianſtad, to review ſome Regiments quartered in and about that place; after which, he deſigns to go and review the Troops quartered in the Iſle of Schonen. The Duke of Holſtein is come to this place from Carelſcroone to viſit his Dutcheſs, and will return thither in a day or two. Part of the Retinue of Count Weldtz, the Emperor's Envoy to this Court, are arrived from Vienna, and the Envoy himſelf is expected in few days.

Copenhagen, May 25. The Daniſh Fleet ſet ſail from our Road yeſterday, about 8 in the morning, towards the Iſle of Bornholme, the Wind being at Weſt-North-Weſt, and was got out of ſight before noon. It is divided into three Squadrons, the firſt of which is commanded by the young Count of Guldenleew, aſſiſted by the Admirals Paulſen and Rochtſtein, the ſecond by Admiral Hedde, and the third by Admiral Stocken; Their Orders are delivered to them ſealed, and are not to be opened till they are off the Iſland above-mentioned. Prince Charles of Denmark went from hence yeſterday to Holſtein. The Queen, and Prince William, and the Princeſs Sophia Hedwig, are gone to paſs ſome days at Hirſholme.

Vienna, May 19. The Emperor and Empreſs, and the King and Queen of the Romans, are ſtill at Laxembourg, where they intend to continue about three weeks longer. The Imperial Miniſters do employ their Offices for accommodating the Affair of Holſtein, and if theſe have not the deſired Succeſs, it's believed the Emperor will further declare himſelf. Four Imperial Regiments are marching from Hungary towards the Frontiers of Bohemia and Saxony, where there are already ſix Regiments of Horſe and Dragoons, and two of Foot, and 'tis ſaid, more Forces will be ſent thither if there be occaſion. The Saxons being jealous at the Motion of theſe Troops, ſix Saxon Regiments, which were deſigned to join their Forces before Riga, are ordered to continue in Saxony. Count Weltz, who went from hence about a fortnight ago with the Character of Envoy from the Emperor to the King of Sweden, has Orders to offer the Emperor's Mediation for accommodating the Differences between the Crowns of Sweden and Poland; And Count Zedelinsky, the Emperor's Envoy at Warſaw, has already made the ſame Offers to the King of Poland, but was anſwered, That being engaged in an Alliance with the King of Denmark, and the Czar of Muſcovy, he could not accept it without their Conſent. Meſſieurs Cockenheim and Imhoff, Envoys from the Biſhop of Munſter and the Duke of Wolfembuttel, are come hither from Nuremberg, to repreſent ſeveral Matters to the Emperor, on behalf of the Princes who oppoſe the 9th Electorate, whoſe Miniſters are aſſembled in that City to confer about this Affair. The Biſhop of Lerida, late Ambaſſador from the King of Spain, is returned home; The Duke of Moles, who is to ſucceed him in that Station, is expected here in few days.

Staden, May 27. The Train of Artillery deſigned for the Service of the Swediſh Troops, which were quartered in the Dutchy of Bremen, and are now marching to the Relief of Tonningen, was ſent from hence on the 25th Inſtant; and the Governour of the Dutchy of Bremen, who is to Command them, left this Place yeſterday. Theſe Forces are to join this day or to morrow with thoſe of the Houſe of Lunenbourg, in order to paſs the Elbe, and to proceed together towards Tonningen.

From the Daniſh Camp before Tonningen, May 27. The King of Denmark came yeſterday from Rensbourg, and having viewed the Camp, and the ſeveral Works, he gave Orders, that ſome Batteries which are not yet in a readineſs ſhould be finiſhed with all expedition, and that we ſhould loſe no time in carrying on our Attacks, in order to make our ſelves Maſters of the Place; after which he went to Frederickſtad. We have advice, that 12 Swediſh Frigats are coming from Gottembourg, with Supplies of Proviſions for the Garriſon of Tonningen, and that they are to cruize off the Mouth of the Eyder, to hinder the Danes from Blocking up the Place by Sea.

Hamburgh. May 28. The Troops which the Princes of the Houſe of Lunenburgh are ſending to the Aſſiſtance of the Duke of Holſtein, are advanced to the Elbe, where they are to be joyned by the Swediſh Forces from the Dutchy of Bremen, and 'tis reported, that 6000 of them have already paſſed that River at Brackel near Lawenburgh. Theſe Forces, when joyned together, will be about 18 or 20000 ſtrong, and in the mean time the
